Deacon Hope's Performances

By LAWRENCE ALFRED CLAY

(Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.)

Deacon Hope was fifty-five years old. His wife had died, leaving the care of seven children on his hands. The deacon was a farmer, living about a mile outside the village. His reputation was that of a level-headed man, and he stood well with his church and all his neighbors.

One day, a year after his wife's death, he appeared at the house of the widow Sargent, in town. He was dressed up and his boots greased. He and the widow had known each other for five years, and she had been one of the attendants at his wife's funeral. It was not a bit strange that he should call, but his attitude and actions after sitting a few minutes were rather puzzling. Deacon Hope began to sigh. He also hitched around in his chair, and now and then the sigh became a long-drawn groan. The widow waited and wondered for fifteen minutes and then asked:

"Deacon, have you been eating raw turnips?"

"No-o-o!" he groaned.

"Too much pork and beans for dinner?"

"No-o-o!"

"Well, if you haven't got a case of colic then I never saw one. I haven't got any remedy in the house, and you'd better go to Doctor Green. You ought to remember that your wife was took all of a sudden."

"Yes, I guess I'd better see the doctor," he answered.

The deacon got up and left the house. But he didn't call on Doctor Green. His temper around the corner, and he climbed into his wagon and drove home. He had no more colic than a hitching post, but his face wore a frightened look. When he reached home his eldest girl asked:

"You Mind Your Own Business."

"Father, where's the new mother you said we were going to have?"

The deacon waited to unlatch the horses before replying, and then what he said was:

"Cynthia, you mind your own business."

Four days later he made another call on the widow. She had worried considerably about that colic, being a sympathetic woman, and was glad it hadn't turned out fatally. For five minutes the deacon spoke of the weather and the crops, and then he began to hitch his chair along. He hitched and hitched, until he was across the room and back, and then the widow held up her hands and exclaimed:

"For the land's sake, Deacon Hope, but what ails you! Have you got what is called 'the hitches'?" If you have I want to tell you that it takes a person off mighty sudden. They hitch and hitch until they hitch into their graves!"

"Oh, I guess it ain't nothing," was the reply, and the hitcher ceased hitching and began to study the toes of his boots. When he had been silent for a while he was asked:

"Did you have any errand here today, Deacon?"

"Yes-no-yes-no! That is—is—that is, I didn't!" He rubbed his hands together, looked at her in a helpless way, and his eyes went back to his toes.

"Well, I never!" ejaculated the widow. "If my John had ever acted the way you do I should have believed he had been bitten by a mad dog! You must surely see a doctor!"

"Yes-no-yes—I think I must." He rose up and made for the door as if he expected a kick.

An hour later the Widow Sargent called in Doctor Green as he was passing and described the deacon's symptoms and asked what ailed him.

"You can't always tell in these cases," sagely replied the physician. "It may be a nervous breakdown, or he may be going insane over the death of his wife. We must wait until the symptoms develop further." In four or five days there were more symptoms. At three o'clock in the afternoon the widow happened to look out of her front door, and she found the deacon sitting on the steps with his back humped up.

NEW METHOD OF OSCULATION

Devoted Couple Practice Diving From Float and Staying Under Water Long Enough to Kiss.

"Dan and Kitty are so devoted to each other," said the gushing seaside girl.

"I should think so," said the cynic; "the way they carry on!"

"Carry on!"

"Yes, wandering on the beach moonlight nights holding each other's hands and skulking behind rocks with osculatory intent, and—"

"Why, of course. They are so fond of each other. And they don't like bathing the least bit, because it's so public. So many bathers and people watching from the sand that they can't do or say anything."

"How cruel!"

"Yes. But they're going to get around it. They are practicing it every day. Haven't you noticed them?"

"Practicing what?"

"Why, diving from the float and staying under water long enough to kiss each other."

WELL QUALIFIED

First Dog—That fellow that's waiting on Miss Greyhound keeps late hours, doesn't he?

Second Dog—Yes; I hear that he's a real setter.

A Chance to Rise.

"Now, Billy," said the young man's father, "I've found a fine job for you—a job which will, if you attend strictly to business, give you a splendid chance to rise."

"What is the nature of the job?"

"You've seen some of the big buildings in course of construction, haven't you?"

"Have you ever noticed how the great iron beams are lifted to their places?"

"Sure."

"Well, a friend of mine who is a contractor has agreed to use you to stand on the beams and balance them as they are hoisted. I told him about the splendid nerve you had exhibited in sitting around and permitting me to support you, and he agreed that you would be just the man for the job."

She Was to Wait.

There was living in Illinois a solemn man who is often funny without meaning to be. At the time of his wedding he lived in a town some distance from the home of the bride. The wedding was to be at her home. On the eventful day the solemn man started for the station, but on the way met the village grocer, who talked so entertainingly that the bridegroom missed his train.

Naturally he was in a "state." Something must be done quickly. So he sent the following telegram:

"Don't marry till I come.—Henry."

Settling the Preliminaries.

"Where does that society wedding take place?"

"The time and place haven't been fixed upon."

"But it's a sure thing?"

"Oh, yes. The old bridegroom settled a million on the girl yesterday and her father hustled right down and got the check cashed."

For Tired Feet.

After a long walk, when the feet feel weary and uncomfortable, try bathing them in warm water with a little eau de cologne added to it. Dry them and rub in some starch or plain violet powder. On a railway journey it is a good idea to take a pair of light slippers in the traveling bag and to change the outdoor boots when in the train.

Alcohol is a good medium with which to rub the feet, and bathing them in salt water is good for some feet, and they are always benefited by the starch powder rub afterward.

Cotton stockings of the finest and softest make are excellent wear for tender feet, and many people like cashmere. Many people believe in soaping the heel of a stocking so as to prevent blisters, and shaking starch powder or borax into the stockings before putting them on is another preventive of those crippling worriers.

A Test.

"You think that woman has an exceptionally kindly and generous disposition?"

"Unquestionably," replied Miss Cayenne. "She can read an entire column of society news clear through without once smiling critically and saying 'bump!'"

An Objection to Mathematics.

"So you don't enjoy algebra?"

"No," replied the candid youth. "Algebra keeps asking you how many apples John has or how much a fish weighs, when you'd rather be eating the apples or catching the fish."

TERRIBLE TOLL OF THE SEA

Steam Vessels Totally Lost in 1908 Numbered 588—Fifty Ships Missing That Year.

Careful French statisticians compile each year for the "Bureau Veritas" a record of the accidents and losses suffered for a twelve-month by the merchant marine of all nations from which data are obtainable, says a writer in Harper's Magazine. The yearly summary put forth by the "Bureau Veritas" is counted authoritative by all maritime men—owners, agents, underwriters. Few who loiter in the palm gardens or loiter on the roadways of the swift cities of ease that cross the Atlantic know the "Bureau Veritas."

Its record of the tolls gathered by that complacent sea down—far down—below the rails.

Nine hundred and eighty-six vessels of the world's merchant marine—steam and sail—totally lost in the year 1908, says these careful French statisticians; and this tally recognizes only steam of over 100 tons' burden. Such the record of complete destruction, and the following the count of damage not irreparable: 4,373 steamers injured by fire, collision, stranding, stress of weather, and other causes. The destruction varies from year to year; in 1907 there were 1,104 total losses among merchant ships; in 1905 1,038 steamships and sailing vessels were gripped by the sea.

No count is kept of the men who go down in the ships that are lost. The statisticians deal only with commercial values. No bureau in the world finds profit or incentive in keeping count of the thousands of sea-workers who are claimed as toll by the sea we reckon tamed. Only this is taken in count; that every day in the year somewhere on the restless wastes of the seven seas two—in some years three—ships are snatched in greed by the power that tolerates the many. So the average has it.

The sea takes most of its title by stealth. A bandage of fog about the navigator's eyes, a racing current moving unseen beneath the masked innocence of flat water, a knife-edge reef, or sand that yields until a keel is fairly trapped—then destruction. Not quite 400 of the 988 vessels lost in the year 1908 were wrecked through stranding; 158 of these were steamships, superior as they were over the barkes and schooners subject to the whims of the wind. Collisions sent ninety crafts to the bottom. Fire destroyed thirty-eight. Shipwrecks, shipwrecks, shipwrecks. Under the head "missing," which means that not even careful French statisticians can divine the secrets of the deep, fifty ships were registered in the 1908 record of disaster.

Consumption in Ireland.

One of the most interesting facts brought out in the report of the registrar general for Ireland, just issued as a blue book, is the maintenance of the decrease in the mortality from tuberculosis, which has now been continuous since 1908. The death rate from this disease fell from 2.7 per 1,000 in 1907 to 2.6 in 1908; in the following year the rate declined to 2.4 per 1,000, and in the year under review to 2.3 per 1,000. All who are taking part in the campaign against tuberculosis, says the registrar general, are to be congratulated on the results of their exertions. Special mention must be again made of the Women's National Health association, founded and presided over by the Countess of Aberdeen. The simple health principles propaganda of this association have tended toward this result. Special attention should also be given to the excellent work done by the medical officers of health, who have exceptional opportunities of understanding the home life and needs of the poorer classes. The county, urban and rural district councils are working in various ways for the betterment of the public health of the country, notably in the provision of improved dwellings for the people.—Dundee Advertiser.

The readers of the Richmond Terminal, Richmond's booster and enterprising newspaper, will be delighted to hear of contemplated improvements that will take place in the news service of this paper, commencing with the next issue. The management of the Terminal in the future will be conducted by Dr. Warren B. Brown and Geo. W. Ryan, both gentlemen well known in local newspaper circles. Mr. Ryan has a reputation for himself in Imperial county the past two years and comes highly recommended as a booster and good citizen. He owns his home and resides in this community, and will be a valuable acquisition as a live wire and a progressive. The Terminal will now add new features and prove to its many patrons and advertising clientele that printers' ink is a good investment especially when placed in these columns. Drop in and get acquainted.

Christmas is coming. Get busy.

Some of our traders get their printing out of "t-e-o-w-u," too.

All roads, once upon a time, led to Rome. They now lead to Richmond.

The Southern Pacific is doing more to advertise California than any other railroad.

The intersection of Sixth street and Macdonald avenue is becoming so congested by traffic that the services of a policeman may soon be required.

Watch the Terminal, this paper. The Terminal is located in the busy center. As news radiates from the center, you will find it in the Terminal.

If State Printer Shannon should side step from his office, Friend W. Richardson, the second highest number of votes for the race will get the appointment.

An increase of wages approximating six per cent, reduced hours and the sharing of a lump sum of $75,000 have been granted the B. & O. railway telegraphers.

The "turkey trot," "bunny hug" and "Texas Tommy" dances have not proved popular in Richmond and are eliminated from the programs of respectable dancing parties.

Richmond is famous for her fine churches and schools as well as for her many manufacturing industries. Richmond is a city of culture and refinement. Come to prosperous Richmond.

The good fellows say: "Spend your money at home." The better fellows say: "Don't spend your money all in one place at home." The Johnny wise, the best ones say: "Patronize the boosters; advertise in the Terminal; get away from the 'long hairs'."

Albany, Richmond's suburb on the east, has dispensed with the license of $15 per quarter which has been imposed upon vendors or peddlers. This raises the bars to the distributors of foodstuffs and helps reduce the high cost of living. Farmers and producers will now be in a position to sell their products direct to the consumer, less the unnecessary tax formerly imposed

The Wonderful Pianist on the "Alabama"

Billy McCoy, the musical wonder of the U. S. Navy on board the cruiser "Alabama," has suddenly become famous through the latest rag-time lyric written by Roger Lewis, set to music by Lucien Demini and published by Jerome H. Remick & Co., entitled OCEANA ROLL. McCoy was considered one of the best rag time players in Chicago before he enlisted in the Navy. He plays entirely by ear, and does not know one note of music nor any of the rules of harmony and thorough-bass. He is the idol of the service, and whenever the boys of his ship receive leave of absence McCoy is taken around to all the places where rag time is popular, and is greeted with bravos and cheers. The song Oceana Roll describes the cruise of the "Alabama" when McCoy "tickles the ivories." One line in the song describes the condition of things thus: "No one can sleep out there on the deep when Billy gets loose at sea." The song itself has proven a big success at all the vaudeville theatres in Chicago and New York, and the audience goes fairly wild over this nautical rag time song. The chorus is particularly catchy, and it is nothing unusual to hear the chorus sung en masse.

CHORUS.
Each fish and worm begins to twist and squirm,
The ship starts in to dip and does a corkscrew turn;
Just see that smoke so black Sacak from that old smoke stack!
It's floatin' right to heaven and it won't come back!
Now here and there you'll see a stool and chair
A-slipin' round the cabin shoutin' "I don't care!"
And then the hammock starts a-swingin',
And the bell begins a ringin',
While he's sittin' at that piano,
There on the Alabama, playin' the Oceana Roll.

The Cigarette Boy.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Hyatt has just issued a bulletin to the teachers and school officers of the state under the title of "The Cigarette Boy." It undertakes to give some fresh California material to aid the schools in teaching the effects of narcotics, as required by law. This bulletin is the first of a series of quarterly publications authorized by the last legislature at the request of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. "The Cigarette Boy" is reasonable and moderate in tone. It offers such arguments as a father who smokes would be likely to use in persuading his son to abstain. It contains a letter from the State Superintendent to the boys of California, urging them to refrain from the tobacco habit until they are grown; half a dozen expressions of opinion from well known speakers and writers of the state; and some special and original articles upon the actual effects of cigarettes upon the reform schools, upon the boys in the public school, and upon the boys who become confirmed smokers.

Farmers Demonstration Train

Farmers, vineyardists, orchardists, stock-men, poultry-men, beekeepers—in fact, every resident (male and female) of rural California, will be interested in the announcement that the annual demonstration train of the Southern Pacific Company and University of California, will start on its fourth tour of the State on November 13th, leaving Sacramento at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and holding its first meeting at Lincoln, Cal., commencing at 9 o'clock the same morning. The initial trip contemplates a ten days' absence and includes stops at thirty-one communities in Northern California. The make-up of the train—which will be in charge of experts from the Agricultural College of the University, and from the State Farm at Davis—will consist of six passenger coaches, given to exhibits of different branches of husbandry; one baggage car, also for exhibits; a sleeper, a diner and baggage car for the accommodation of the train crew. The passenger coaches contain samples of various grain, fruit and vegetable crops, together with a

Richmond Home Laundry Starts Up

For months Richmond has had no steam laundry. Busy drivers have worked increasing the business and about $3000 monthly, or $36,000 annually, went regularly out of Richmond.

Occasionally the drivers would get into friendly rivalry, but all had nicely painted wagons, wore white laundered collars and shirts themselves and would stroll, when not busy showing every evidence of thrift and prosperity.

Everyone said: "Richmond needs a laundry."

Finally the laundry came. A. J. Hall, A. L. Hall and Jack Best, capitalists and with years of experience and successful laundrymen have built and equipped a modern laundry, called "Richmond Home Laundry," near the Southern Pacific depot. The new building and new machinery all on the ground floor costing about $20,000 are evidences of the intentions of the owners to give Richmond people laundry service at home.

Like all enterprises of this kind there may be dinky people doing dinky things against these people because they perhaps could not start and operate a big laundry themselves.

The two Halls and Mr. Best are putting in this laundry and the machinery is all installed and the plant will be turning out business all next week. There will be about twenty-five employees and Henry J. Olsen will probably be the head employee of the laundry routes.

The monster ironer, alone cost $2500 and besides all other machinery required has been installed new.

Stomach Blood and Liver Troubles

Much sickness starts with weak stomach, and consequent poor, impoverished blood. Nervous and pale people lack good, rich, red blood. Their stomachs need invigorating food, after all, a man can be no stronger than his stomach. A remedy that makes the stomach strong and the liver active, makes rich red blood and overcomes and drives out disease-producing bacteria and cures a whole multitude of diseases.

Get rid of your Stomach Weakness and Liver Laziness by taking a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the Great Stomach Restorative, Liver Invigorator and Blood Cleanser.

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, and being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Invalid Soup.
Half a pint of strong beef tea or mutton broth, two raw yolks of eggs, two small teaspoonsful of raw sage, seasoning. Put the sage into a small quantity of boiling water, and boil till it is quite clear. Then strain off the water. Heat the beef tea, add the sage, beat up the yolks of eggs and strain them into the soup. Heat very carefully. On no account let it boil or it will curdle and be spoiled. See that it is nicely seasoned and serve hot. This will be found quite a change when the ordinary beef tea is changed of.

MOUNTAIN GOAT A NUISANCE

Annoy Alaskan Miners by Getting Into Their Tunnels and Eating Their Location Stakes.

Miners in Mineral Gulch, Alaska, are having considerable trouble with mountain goats.

During stormy weather the goats crowd into the tunnels that are being driven on the claims well up on the mountains, and it is only by throwing a dynamite cartridge into the tunnels in the morning that they can be driven out and the contractors get in to go to work.

It is also stated that they are likely to be the cause of considerable litigation among mine owners next year, as they have destroyed a number of location stakes by eating them.

Owing to the fact that alder and willow comprise the only wood in the gulch, nearly all the location stakes are of these woods, which, in the absence of other food, the goats attack eagerly.

A great many of the animals have been killed by the men at work in the gulch, but the number seems to increase rather than diminish.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had tumors, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sensitive Wash relieved me. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mount St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided.
New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY TEXOUX, 1111 Kerlereau St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing female ills from which so many women suffer.

Some Questions.
How far is a far cry? Is it wrong to steal a march? Can you hum an air of unconcern? Does it hurt to be struck by an idea? Did you ever see the shadow of a doubt? Can the voice of conscience be cultivated? What artist painted the picture of health? When the welkin rings who answers the ring? What florist raises the pink of propriety? When Fortune smiles does she show her front teeth?—Boston Transcript.

To Polish Furniture.
For furniture there is nothing to equal olive oil or raw linseed oil, rubbed in the wood, according to the grain. The woodwork may require retreating as well. Ordinary old oak is always improved by rubbing it with warm beer. It should be remembered that linseed oil has the effect of darkening mahogany.

Mere Trifles.
Passenger—Any danger on this trip, Cap? Captain—Well, there's a pirate balloon above us and a submarine under us and we're carrying 20 tons of dynamite. Outside of that there's no cause for nervousness.—Lancashire Star.

The Widow's Mite.
It is remarkable that the very people who have but little are the very people who are always giving much of the little that they have to people who have less—the story of the widow and her mite is as true today as ever.

Rarest Tribute.
Gratitude is the rarest tribute the world ever offers to those who have labored to cleanse it.—Berenice, by E. Phillips Oppenheim.

It takes 4,221 pounds of ore, 2,310 pounds of coke, which means about three thousand pounds of coal, and 1,147 pounds of limestone, a total of over four tons of ore, coal and limestone, to make a ton of pig iron.

No Guess Work There.

FARMERS' DEMONSTRATION TRAIN COMING

Farmers, vineyardists, orchardists, stockmen, poultrymen, beekeepers—in fact, every resident (male and female) of rural California, will be invited to the annual demonstration train of the Southern Pacific Company and University of California, will start on its fourth tour of the State on November 1st, leaving Sacramento at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and holding its first meeting at Lincoln, Cal., commencing at 9 o'clock the same morning. The initial trip contemplates a ten days' absence and includes stops at thirty-one communities in Northern California.

The make-up of the train—which will be in charge of experts from the Agricultural College of the University, and from the State Farm at Davis—will consist of six passenger coaches, given over to exhibits of different branches of husbandry; one baggage car, also for exhibits; a sleeper; a dining car and a baggage car for the accommodation of the train crew. The passenger coaches contain samples of various grain, fruit and vegetable crops, together with interesting displays of other State products which can not fail to engage the attention of the up-to-date grower and producer.

This will be the fourth annual junket of the demonstration train, which has accomplished a great work in the education and advancement of the California farmer. During the season of 1908-9 the train covered 2,608 miles, attracting 37,276 persons to the 329 meetings held. In 1909-10 the trip was extended to 3,435 miles covered, 222 meetings held and 73,663 persons entertained. In 1910-11 the train visited Owens Valley in addition to the 329 meetings held. In 1909-10 the trip was extended to 3,435 miles covered, 222 meetings held and 73,663 persons entertained.

The expenses of the demonstration train, outside of the installation of the exhibits, are borne by the railroad company, the amount set aside for this purpose being approximately $10,000 a year, not counting wear and tear on equipment. The discussions include practically every subject of interest to the growers and stockmen, with lectures on the latest practical improvements in the farming world.

Towns to be visited on this first trip, together with the dates, are as follows: November 1st, Lincoln, Wheatland and Marysville; November 14th, Oroville, Bogue and Knight's Landing; November 15th, Live Oak, Gridley (two lectures) and Biggs; November 16th, Chico, Vina and Los Molinos; November 17th, Red Bluff, Anderson and Redding; November 19th, Marysville and Colusa; November 20th, Montague, Gazelle and Edgewood; November 21st, Corning, Hamilton and Orland; November 22nd, Germantown, Willows, Maxwell and Pittsburg; November 23rd, Arbuckle, Dunnigan, Yolo and Woodland.

Later in the season trips will be made to the Colfax district; San Joaquin and Owens valleys; Placer, Yuba, Sutter and Colusa; including Imperial Valley; the Coast Line, northward from Los Angeles; and the Bay Counties, northward from Santa Clara and San Jose. A big attendance is expected.

The Collector.
The late Edwin A. Abbey had no sympathy with those American millionaires who pay $400,000 or $500,000 for a doubtful Rembrandt or an impudent Pragonard, while painters of genius in their own towns are starving for lack of orders.

At a dinner at his London residence in Tite street, said last year, apropos of the purchase by a New Yorker of a doubtful Titian at an inflated price:

"This type of man knows nothing about art. A man of this type, when Whistler was not yet famous, wanted his wife's portrait done."

"How much will you charge me, Mr. Whistler," he said, "for a lifesize picture of the madam?"

"My price," said Whistler, "will be $2,500."

"The millionaire took up his hat and stick."

"Why," he sported, turning to go, you expect to be paid for your work as if you had been dead 400 or 500 years!"

Judicial Distinction.
A man whose trousers were stolen from a Pullman car has been awarded damages in the sum of $495.00, which is doubtless all the trousers were worth, but sets a ridiculously low estimate on the amount of "mental anguish."

HAD NO PERMIT FOR DOGGIE

So the Woman Dropped Her Pet Off the Car and Resumed Her Seat.

The little woman with the laundry blue and gangrenous green flowers on her hat all scrambled up on a Wilton rug design got on the car carrying a dog. It was one of those aristocratic, foolish-looking dogs that couldn't overtake a Welsh rabbit.

"Got a permit for that dawg?" asked the conductor when he came around for the woman's fare. "Haven't? Then you'll have to get off the car."

"Well, I'll not get off the car," retorted the woman.

"You can't stay on here with that dog unless you've got a dog permit," insisted the conductor.

The woman got up, dog under one arm, as if to get off. But as she rose she repeated: "I'll not get off. So there!"

Still, she walked to the rear platform as if in contradiction of her own assertion. The conductor was ready to signal the motorman to stop.

But the woman had declared she wasn't going to get off, and she intended to keep her word. She poised the dog carefully in her palms, tossed him off into the street, at the same time bidding him "Go home!"

Then she came back into the car and dropped languidly into her seat with a bored tilt to her face.

For the Dishwasher.
Besides having a pot chain and scraper you should have thick canvas cloths for the pots and pans and separate light cloths for the finer china-ware. A rubber sponge is just the thing for greasy dishes. One of these lasts a long time and gives you such satisfaction that you will never do without one once you try them. Cake tins, patty pans and all small tinware boiled in a dishpan in the water of which a handful of soda has been thrown will become fresh and clean and as bright as new.

Ice-creamers' Gloves.
In so cold a climate as Iceland the glove must be put off or on as rapidly and easily as possible; so it is made without fingers, and in order that no time may be wasted in distinguishing between right and left all gloves have two thumbs. You simply thrust your hand into the first glove that comes and your thumb immediately finds its way. There are, of course, drawbacks in the matter of appearance, for the dangling idle thumb looks untidy.—London Chronicle.

Originality.
People are always talking about originality; but what do they mean? As soon as we are born, the world begins to work upon us, and this goes on to the end. And after all, what can we do but accept, except energy, strength and will. If I could give an account of all that I owe to great predecessors and contemporaries there would be but small balance in my favor.—Goethe.

Well Occupied.
Lady (engaging assistant gardener)—And if I engage you, besides your other duties, you will have to attend to the three dogs and clean out their kennels, also clean out the parrot's cage, clean up my sons' workshop and clean both their bicycles; also clean the car except when the weather's dirty. Applicant (overwhelmed):—And shall I have to clean that?—Tatler.

A Great Difference.
In a spread-eagle speech on the immortality of the soul, an orator exclaimed: "I looked at the mountains, and could not help thinking, 'Beautiful as you are, you will some day be destroyed, while my soul will not.' Then I gazed upon the ocean, and cried out, 'Mighty as you are, you will some day dry up, but I never will!'"

One Point Lacking.
The story is told in Barry O'Brien's book on John Bright how, on one occasion, Sydney Smith, while looking critically at the unfinished portrait of a celebrated Nonconformist divine, said to the artist: "Do you not think you could throw into the face a stronger expression of hostility to the established church?"

Lucid Explanation.
Little Fred was telling his father about a stone he had found in the garden.

"How big was it?" asked papa.

"Oh, I guess about as big as a good sized small apple," was the innocent explanation.

Grim Jest of the Butcher.
That a butcher is not always totally devoid of humor is indicated by the remark of one of them, who said: "The best way to reduce the butcher's bill is to pay a little on it now and then."—New Orleans Item.

Friendship improves happiness and abates misery, by the doubling of our joy by the dividing of our griefs.—Cic
